Underwater:Photos

Years ago, I discovered the beauty and wonder of a completely new world: the underwater of the Caribbean. At some point I purchased an underwater camera, then another, then another, always moving "up" to better cameras until I tried my first digital camera, a Canon 2.1 megapixel, and the pictures were then open to Adobe Photoshop enhancement! After that, a 4.0 megapixel, and now my third Canon with 7.1 megapixels, each having its own special underwater case.

I hope you will enjoy viewing these pictures, maybe as much as I did taking them. Please remember, if you see 20 pictures, I picked my best. I surely threw out 2000 to get these. It's not easy. Fish do NOT like to sit around so you can photograph them.

My favorites are the turtle pics, which I also sell at Little Dix Bay's Gift Shop.
